IMPRISIS™ DA/XA

Personal Information Management is a key element of a social intranet and a huge productivity driver in the daily life of corporate users.

Two major players in this area are IBM Domino and Microsoft Exchange / Office 365, both feature rich personal information management tools with their own client strategy. Both tools are rarely fully integrated into a social intranet.

With IMPRISIS™ DA/XA, we deliver ready-to-go components to integrate a mail and calendaring client into your social intranet run by Adobe Experience Manager. Our components can be tailored in features and look and feel and deliver an open REST-API to enhance existing or new components with Mail, Calendaring and ToDo features.

IMPRISIS (TM) DA

The Product

IMPRISIS™ DA/XA consists of several integration layers, that work jointly together to give content creators and users a consistent and easy-to-use experience when working with the product. The base layers are the Single Sign On Components and the API Layers for IBM Domino, Microsoft Office 365 and Microsoft Exchange, that define the base in ensuring privacy and data integrity.

The top layer are ready-to-run components and page templates for Adobe Experience Manager for the Mail, Calendaring and ToDo features of IBM Domino and Microsoft Exchange / Office 365. We deliver authoring components for a drag and drop integration for content authors as well as runtime components for user interaction. All components are fully responsive and come as Twitter Bootstrap components. By delivering a consistent REST-API for the features of IBM Domino and Microsoft Exchange, we have built the foundation of an extensible solution for our customers - all of the API is accessible and can be used to extend or alter existing behaviour. New front end components can be developed in no time by using our object model to interact with Mail, Calendaring and ToDo features without knowing the underlying data structures and backend systems at all.
